

Stewardship – Finance Committee

Responsibility

Review the committee's purpose in areas of concern and basic responsibilities in the matters of stewardship and finance, including the church budget.

Study what the Bible teaches about stewardship including giving.

Study, identify and write out, the mission of the church.

Seek to understand the church's stewardship needs.

Work with church leadership on proposed annual budget.

Present the final budget proposal to the church body and facilitate the vote, according to the by-laws of the church.

Plan and calendar the emphases and opportunities that will best help the church promote the annual church budget and faithful giving.

Seek the cooperation of other church leaders and use all existing channels of the church to communicate biblical stewardship truths, with an emphasis on personal stewardship and spiritual growth.

Become familiar with and determine the best available methods and resources for implementing planned stewardship activities.

Be sensitive to stewardship needs that are unique or that do not occur regularly.
